SDSU Office of AANHPISI Affairs & APIDA Center Executive Director's Message

October 3, 2025

From Dr. Loh-Hagan: Hanging out with Dr. Manning!

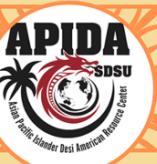

On Monday, September 29th, the APIDA Center hosted a very special guest - our very own Vice President of Student Affairs and Campus Diversity, Dr. Christopher Manning. Some lucky students got the opportunity to ask him questions. Dr. Manning offered leadership tips and of course, took some photos/selfies.

Also, on Wednesday, October 1st, Dr. Manning and I sent campus-wide messaging kicking off Filipinx American History Month \(FAHM\) and Hindu American Awareness and Appreciation Month. Learn more about APIDA/Asian heritage celebrations!

Join us for a month of learning and fun! We can't wait to share our histories and heritages with you!

2025 HAAAM Programs

Location: APIDA Center

Oct 15th from 1-2 pm: Hinduism 101

Oct 20th from 5-7 pm: Diwali Craft Night: Shisha

Oct 21st from 5-7 pm: Diwali Poker Night

Oct 23rd from 5-7 pm: Rangoli Coasters

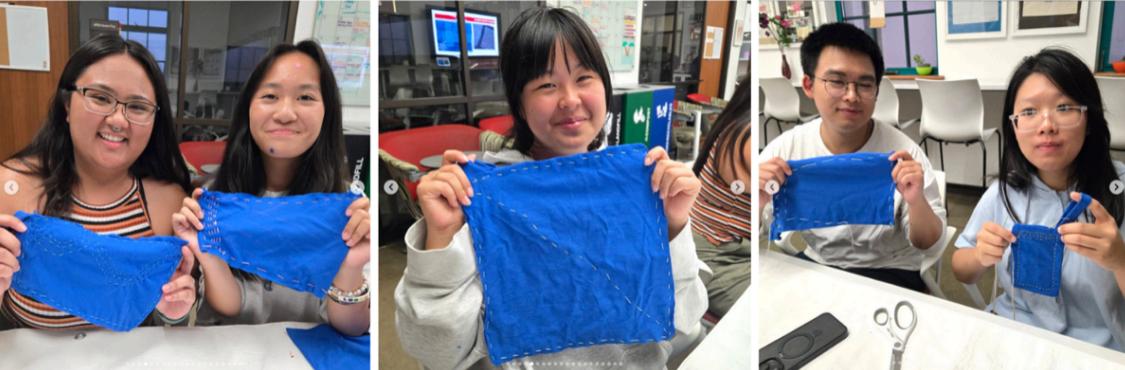

APIDA Center learns about HAAAM!

In addition to Filipinx American History Month (FAHM), October is also Hindu American Awareness and Appreciation Month \(HAAAM\). HAAAM is a global movement that highlights the Hindu American experience, showcasing the community's contributions while also acknowledging their struggles. October holds special significance in the Hindu faith, as it is the month when major holidays like Navaratri and Diwali are celebrated. It also marks the birth of Mahatma Gandhi (1869–1948), an Indian anti-colonial activist. In 2013, the Hindu American Foundation partnered with California State Assemblymember Ash Kalra (born 1972) to introduce a statewide resolution recognizing the contributions of Hindu Americans. California has been at the heart of Hindu American history and is now home to the largest Hindu American population in the nation, at approximately 800,000 in 2025.

California's connection to Hinduism spans more than a century and is rooted in the early waves of South Asian immigration in the 1900s. Many of the first Hindu immigrants arrived as agricultural workers and laborers in the Central Valley. In 1906, San Francisco became home to the "First Hindu Temple in the Whole Western World." Immigration reforms in the mid-20th century (i.e., 1965 Immigration and Nationality Act) later opened the door for larger numbers of Hindus. Today, California is home to more than 120 Hindu temples, religious centers, and cultural institutions.

In San Diego, about 2% of the adult population identifies as Hindu. Hindu Americans represent a wide range of ethnicities, languages, and cultural traditions. Hinduism has deep roots in San Diego, visible through its temples, spiritual centers, and vibrant community life. Shri Mandir, one of the city's most well-known temples, has served the community since its founding in 1994. Located in Mira Mesa, off Miramar Road, this small shopping center is often referred to as "Little India," the temple is surrounded by a hub of Indian culture, featuring restaurants, clothing shops, and grocery stores. In 2023, San Diego declared October as Hindu Heritage Month (HHM). Although both HHM and HAAAM celebrate Hinduism, it is important to distinguish between them. HHM highlights the faith's traditions and culture. HAAAM focuses on the lived experiences of Hindu Americans by recognizing their contributions and the challenges they face. This distinction is important because it honors Hinduism as a religion while also amplifying Hindu American voices within the larger story of American history.

APIDA Center Highlights: News to Know!

APIDA Center makes sashiko zokin!

On Monday, September 29th, we learned about the history and cultural significance of sashiko, a traditional Japanese decorative reinforcement embroidery technique. At the heart of sashiko is the commitment to sustainability, DIY, and visible mending. As such, we focused our sashiko stitching on making zokin - a Japanese type of reusable cleaning cloths made with scrap fabrics and reinforced with stitching. (Many thanks to SDSU Pierce Greek Life Center for the t-shirt donations!)

APIDA Center hosts a coconut party!

On Tuesday, September 30th, we hosted a coconut party! We learned all about coconuts, including coconut science, history and culture, and more. Then, we enjoyed some coconut snacks. (We tried to eat real coconuts but Dr. Loh-Hagan had some struggles - Watch this video from Meghan Dang featuring Andy Chen's reactions.)

APIDA Center crafts for a cause!

On Thursday, October 2nd, we teamed up with the APIDA Pre-Teachers Alliance (PTA) to host a craft for a cause events. We crocheted, knitted, and/or stitched! We'll host these throughout the year. Communities that craft together, stay together. Get crafty with us!

APIDA Center kicks off FAHM with lumpia & romcoms!

On Wednesday, October 1st, we launched our 2025 FAHM programming with a lumpia party and a Fil-Am Rom-Com watch party. Of course, we learned about the historical and cultural significance and then enjoyed some lumpia, rice, and romcom - which of course, included a love scene in the rain.

The best part of our Fil-Am Watch Party was the commentary. We had a blast "critiquing" the film. Elijah Guiao suggested that we host a "APIDA Reacts" podcast. Hmmm...standby for more! :)
